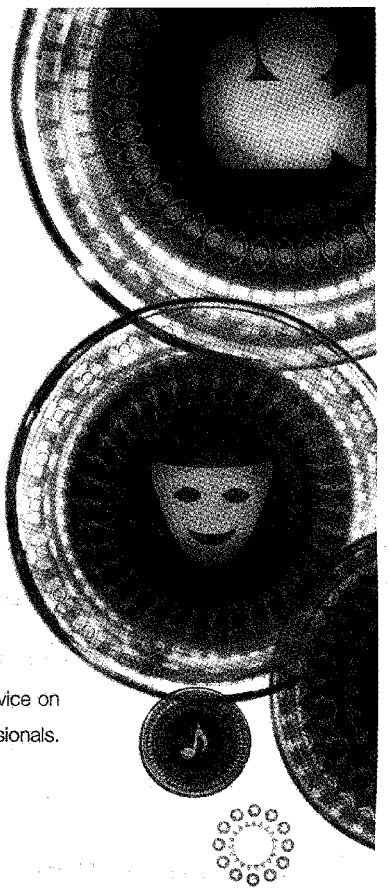
Graduate essentials: How to launch your career



You've worked extremely hard to get where you are today.
How will you ensure your career takes off in the right direction?

Join us for this half-day session in which our expert Jennifer Reischel will give you essential advice on handling life as a graduate and exclusively reveal the results of a recent survey of top industry professionals.

5 key topics

What are you selling?
Get real about your prospects, the current state of the industry and the promotional tools you'll need.

Agents
Find out what agents really want, how to get represented and how to handle the relationship.

Castings
Discover what a casting director looks for plus practical tips to approach them.

In between jobs
Learn how to support yourself with ideas on sources of temporary work.

Finances
Manage your income with tips on spending and saving.

Jennifer Reischel

The expert

Jennifer Reischel is a professional performer, the author of 'So you want to tread the boards' and a reviewer of student showcases. To find our more about Jennifer visit thestage.co.uk/events/expert

Is this session for you?

This session is for students of performance about to leave college, drama school or university to enter the industry and professional performers with up to two years' experience.

Thursday, June 21, 10.30am – 1.30pm, Prince of Wales Theatre

To book or for more information visit thestage.co.uk/events
THE STAGE EVENTS